What is your most treasured photo and why? 你最珍贵的照片是哪张? 为什么?

Some people in London said:

Woman 1: Woman 1: It's a picture of my grandmother from the 1940's. She died when I was really young and it's just really interesting to see how she was when she was round my age.

Woman 2: I think the most treasured photograph I have is standing outside Abu Simbel. It was very beautiful. To sort of, stand next to something that is thousands of years old, to see the sophistication of the people was amazing and just the views around. It was quite remarkable.

Man: It's one of me on a beach in the south of France, taken when I first met my partner. I think it brings back memories of the time; the colours, the atmosphere, the light, and being with her. So it's fantastic, yeah!

Did you know...? 你知道吗...?

Fact

The first permanent photograph was an image produced in 1826 by the French inventor Joseph Nicéphore Niépce.

Language tip

Taking a snap means taking a quick, informal photograph, usually with an unsophisticated camera.

Cultural tip

In some cultures it is rude to photograph someone. Always check before you take a photograph of someone you don't know.
